

What is archaeology? I don't know if we should describe it as a form of Art or a Science...but one thing is sure, that archaeology depends from a multitude of science and that the archaeologist reveals not only objects but human beings.

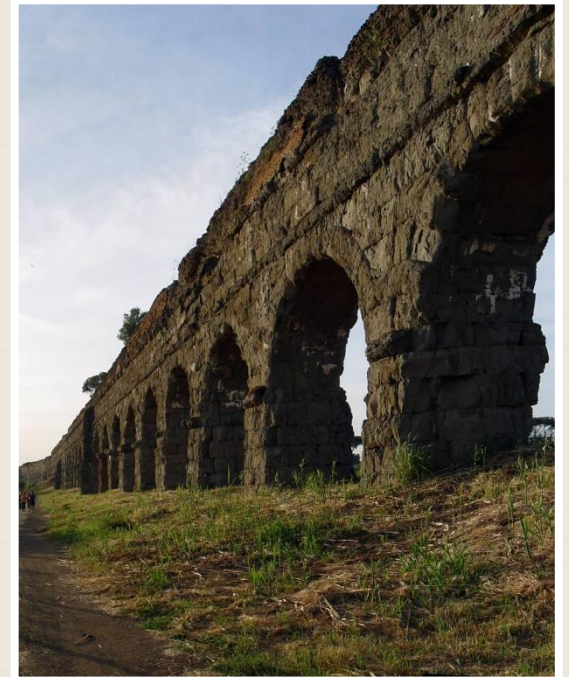

(Sir Mortimer Wheeler)

ARCHAEOLOGICAL TOURS

•
Rome is extraordinary and has one thousand wonderful aspects: through some itinerary today is still possible to recreate daily life scene of the city that dominate the world.

ARCHEOLOGY OF THE WATER: PARK OF THE AQUEDUCTS

takes his name from the seven Aqueducts that contains and that ensured the water provision to the Republican Rome and the Papal Rome

THE ANTIQUE DISCOVERY

A real tour of discovery is not to look for new lands but to have new eyes
(Marcel Proust)

The suggested itineraries offer life's glimpses of the Eternal city and its suggestive sunset.

We can recreate and sightsee the Water Triumph, the memories of the noble families and their religious believes.

CRISTIAN ARCHEOLOGY: THE SUBTERRANEAN OF S. CLEMENTE E SAN CRISOGONO

San Clemente is a small treasure that guards stratigraphies of private and public buildings of the I c. b. C. and a cathedral of the IV c. a. C.

San Clemente

VIA APPIA ANTICA AND VIA LATINA

In the last section of the Agro Romano we propose the Reginae Viarum: a fascinating path, today called Via Appia Antica, through the funeral monuments of the Roman noble families.

Tomba Cecilia Metella, I sec. a. C.

Via Appia Antica

Fees for 60' Tours

15€ adults per person

8€ under 18 yrs

5€ under 10 yrs

